MEMORANDUM FOR THE PRESIDENT

Subject: Military and Non-Military Countermeasures in the Berlin Crisis

Reference: Memorandum for the National Security Council from the Executive Secretary, April 28, 1959.

I forward herewith the first report of the group, chaired by Mr. Murphy, which was established to coordinate further planning in accordance with the action taken at the special meeting of the NSC on April 23.

✓ 1. It is recommended that the Department of State be authorized to use information contained in the study of non-military measures, dated April 11, 1959, in discussing contingency planning with the United Kingdom and France, and subsequently with other NATO allies as deemed appropriate. The information would be used informally and piecemeal at first, in a manner designed to elicit the ideas of our allies.

✓ 2. Since the Embassy at Bonn has a role in contingency planning with regard to air access, the Coordinating Group believes that both the above study and the study of military measures, dated April 15, 1959, should be sent to the Embassy for its background information. This will be done April 30 if you do not object.

✓ 3. It has come to the Coordinating Group's attention that one point in the discussion of the two studies

studies with you on April 23 may need clarification. The "substantial effort to reopen ground access by local action" described as alternative I in the study of military measures is quite distinct from the "initial probe of Soviet intentions" called for in present contingency planning as agreed by the U. S., UK and France. In accordance with this planning the paper contemplates that substantial resort to force would come only after the existence of unacceptable interference with access had been established by that initial probe.
